Aimee Dickson

Senior Project Manager

Aimee is a vibrant hard-working, creative professional who's as passionate about the details as she is about the strategy. You'll find her seeking truth, inner peace, and the end to world hunger but in the short-term a really good coffee will suffice.

Aimee has been in the exhibition, design and project management sector for 20 years. She is a clear-minded, organised and calm presence amidst the juggernaut that is event and project management.

Her long list of experience includes exhibitions, events, retail & office fit out projects. Key to Aimee's work is making the complicated simple. Just don't ask what her favourite colour is... (there's an unfair war going on between green and blue, the struggle is real).

A career highlight for Aimee was planning and managing the install of a huge exhibition stand at SPOGA in Cologne Germany. When she's not busy sorting through samples, making prototypes, planning, and problem solving you can find Aimee at the beach with her family and her best fur-friend Ziggy.
